PEAK EVENT

In a dining room filled with diplomats, it wouldn't have come as a surprise that The Peak's Diplomatic Dine Out evening was underscored by elegance, flawless manners, charm and discretion. But the emotion of the night took on a real and raw note as HRH Princess Norodom Arunrasmy, the long-serving Ambassador of Cambodia and Dean of the Diplomatic Corps in Malaysia, broke the news that she was due to shortly return to Cambodia to be reunited with her husband, HE Keo Puth Reasmey, who'd been stationed there.

Held at the Upper Deck, the private dining room of G Tower's award-winning Tanzini Restaurant, the event, naturally, brought together the best of the city's diplomatic and corporate circles, who all came dressed in their evening best for a night of networking, socialising and to enjoy the establishment's justifiably famous cuisine. Offering spectacular views of the KL city skyline, several guests also took the opportunity to nip out in between to admire the view (and enjoy a cigar) while the rest worked the room, fuelled by good food and drink and excellent conversation.
